A WEEK IN CHICAGO.

Impressions and Experiences of Hazel Green Boy in the Windy City.

Every time one visits Chicago he is impressed all the more with her greatness. If you can conceive of a city with a population equal to the state of Kentucky, then you have Chicago. Many of her numerous tenements have five times the population as the Gem of the Mountains. Quite a large number to live under one roof. On Sunday when the factories are shut down and the wind is from the lake, one can see from the roof garden of the Masonic temple the city in its entirety, which extends along Lake Michigan 28 miles and westward 7 miles. The temple is 21 stories high and is the tallest in the world. From the roof I could easily see Pullman, 18 miles south, and Evanston, 14 miles north. Everything is the "largest in the world" in Chicago. The tall buildings, the big stores, the factories, the parks, the stock yards, the packing houses, the board of trade, where fortunes are made and lost every day; all these are described by the use of superlatives. Even the benevolence and wickedness of the people and the rottenness of their city government all come in for their share of the "great-est."

No one should visit Chicago without seeing the stock yards. They cover 1,280 acres and every inch is used. At least four big packing houses are in the yards, none of which employ less than 4,000 men. The day I was there the receipts were 20,000 cattle, 30,000 hogs and 17,000 sheep. In the auction department they sell a horse every two minutes for six hours per day. In Armour's departments they slaughtered 3,000 cattle and 4,000 hogs in one afternoon. The hogs are hung up alive, stuck by a butcher, and before he is dead is dropped into a tank of hot water and then scraped and all done by machinery. The cattle are driven in pens and killed by a hammer-stroke in the head. No part of the animal goes to waste. The horns are used for buttons, the feet make oil, the bones are ground into fertilizers, the hair goes into plaster and the refuse into soap. Even the blood is saved and used in refining sugar. The meat is shipped in refrigerator cars for export or sold in eastern and southern cities.

There are factories and factories in Chicago. Everything from a pin to a locomotive engine is manufactured. The Illinois Steel Co. is now making armor plate for Japan's new navy. One of the most interesting establishments in Chicago is the butterine or oleomargarine factory. This product is made of leaf lard, cream and pure butter and is so nearly like the best of Elgin butter that it takes an expert to tell the difference. The factory is as clean as a pin, works 200 men and makes 50,000 pounds per day, for the privilege of which it pays Uncle Sam 2 cts per pound or $1,000 per day. The owner of this factory, whose guest I had the honor to be, took me through his plant and explained everything. The impression that exists with some people that butterine is made out of dead horses, soap grease and such stuff, is an erroneous one. For my part I am of the belief that it is cleaner than most butter and quite as palatable as the best creamery brands. The entire floor of this factory is scoured every night with hot water and is as clean as water and soap will make it.

While in Chicago I was the recipient of many courtesies from some of the representative people. I had at my disposal one day the fine "span and spider" of Philip Armour, a multi millionaire. A drive behind such spirited steeds along Lake Shore or Michigan Avenue, where nearly every house is the home of a millionaire is an experience long to be remembered by one who usually sojourns on "Shank's mare" or at best goes it in a "one horse shay." The residences on those two streets are usually stone structures, many of them costing as much as $200,000. I ventured to ask my hostess the price of a silk rug in one of her drawing rooms and was told that it was a Persian fabric and cost $500. Such a question would of course have been highly improper outside an intimate friendship. The church on Lake Shore is as near like the golden streets as money can make it. As I entered the door, my friend said, "If you were to throw twelve marbles broadcast in this church, eleven would strike the family pews of millionaires. Yet with all this wealth their service is as simple and informal as an old fashioned 'dinner on the ground' meeting. Every stranger that enters the church is given a choice seat, no matter if a pauper and clothed in rags."

"But the little town of Hazel Green is good enough for me."

The Issue Simplified.

The New York Sun correctly interprets the result of the decision arrived at by the British cabinet last Saturday with respect to the question of international bimetalism. There can, in fact, be but one interpretation of that decision. It definitely puts an end to that issue. Hereafter, neither Republican nor mugwump, nor any other species of humbug and hypocrit whatsoever, can go before the people and claim that there is a probability of international bimetalism. The door to that wide hall of lying and deceit is definitely closed, and the lights are out.

The envoys appointed by Mr. McKinley to solicit the aid of Great Britain and other nations in restoring bimetalism on the international basis, are themselves satisfied that nothing more can be done in that direction, and are making arrangements to return home. They will wait for the final answer of the cabinet as a matter of courtesy, but they have already been informed of the decision.

This is, first, that England refuses to abandon the gold standard in any event; second, that the Indian mints will not be reopened; and, third, that the cabinet will not recommend the Bank of England to increase its silver reserve. This is the information our envoys have received, and it is conclusive so far as international bimetalism is concerned.

Commenting on these facts, the New York Sun says it may be assumed that "the pledge given by the Republican party in the last platform which it adopted at St. Louis last summer to oppose the free coinage of silver except by international agreement with the leading commercial nations of the world, and, until such agreement can be obtained, to maintain the existing gold standard, now become a pledge to maintain the gold standard unconditionally."

This must be true in the very nature of things. The Republicans have pledged themselves to maintain the existing gold standard until the leading commercial nations consent to the restoration of silver on an international basis. As there can be no international agreement without the concurrence and assistance of England, there will be no such thing as international bimetalism, and, consequently, the Republican party is pledged to the maintenance of the existing gold standard.

For many reasons the Constitution is glad that this is so. The people are tired of the programme of hypocrisy, falsehood and evasion behind which the gold men and the Republicans have been hiding these past twenty years. The issue is now clear cut. The Republicans are pledged to maintain the existing gold standard; the Democrats are pledged to the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the aid or consent of any foreign nation. Both as an issue and as a delusion international bimetalism is dead and cannot by any possibility be revived by the dodging politicians.

And it is better for the whole country that this should be so. If the people are to be sold out to the money power, it is well that they should know the precise nature of the bargain. If the prosperity of the country is to be sacrificed to the greed of Great Britain, it should be done boldly and in the broad light of day. If the people are to indorse the gold standard with its attendant wreck and ruin, they should do so with their eyes open.

They know what the gold standard is, they know the curse it has brought upon the country, and they are still feeling its ruinous effects, relieved, it is true, by a foreign wheat famine. If the voters want to indorse the gold standard, let them do so on the plain and naked issue. —Atlanta Constitution.

Boys of Small Towns.

Much has been said of late of the decadence of the small towns through the country. The cry goes that they are losing the flower of their young men, who go away to the larger cities to make their homes. This is not to be wondered at, for the small town presents no field for the ambitious youth. That many of them fail in the cities and drift back to the native town is not a warning which those who come after are ever known to profit by. Fortunately for the world the word "fail" is blotted from the lexicon of every youth, else enterprise would die for the lack of exercise. But there is another reason than a commercial one for the eagerness of the young men to get out of the smaller towns, and that is the lack of amusement. Take the average country town, and what is there to entertain the inhabitants but the little social visiting? Theatres are unknown, lecturers are scarce, one-half of the community condemns dancing and the other half taboos cards; so that the round of gaiety is compassed by an occasional sociable, or church or school concert. This is a scanty menu of fun for the boy full of healthy blood and animal spirits, so he proceeds to hunt something more exciting for himself. Then there begin to be whispered about among mothers stray bits of gossip about a certain game of poker or the participants in a mysterious midnight fusillade with pistols, which had brought half the village out of bed. Stories of dissipation, too, are the rule, not the exception. The capture and punishment of these pistol toters would be easy enough in a large city, but in the smaller towns the sheriff, marshal and deputies are the personal friends of these young men who seek amusement, and so they go uncaught. The older people lament the boisterous rowdiness which disturbs their town, condole with each other over the state of affairs, and pray at the weekly prayer meetings for the regeneration of the misguided youths, while the correction of the evil lies largely in their own hands. Proper amusements should be provided for the young people. Lecture courses, aiming more at entertainment than dry instruction, should be provided, and private houses should be opened oftener, not for balls and expensive parties, but for such gatherings as will mean an evening's pleasure. Athletic sports should also be encouraged, for in these much of the surplus energy would be worked off. A gymnasium would do more to correct the dissipation and petty rowdiness than anything that could perhaps be established. With recreations of this kind the boys of the smaller towns would be happier, less given to mischief, and less eager for the excitement of city life, and having something to occupy their time, they would have less inclination to stay out of their beds and make night hideous with forbidden excitements.—Commercial.

How To Improve Your Town.

Talk about it.
Write about it.
Buy your goods only from local merchants.
Beautify the streets as well as your own premises.
Patronize the business of your town at all times.
Speak well of its public spirited, enterprising citizens.
If you can't think of any good word, don't say anything bad about it.
Be courteous to strangers, so that when they go away they will be favorably impressed.
Don't advertise to help the printer, but to help your own interest and the interest of your town.
Don't let politics get mixed up with your business. If you are a business man stick to your vocation. There will be plenty of men to run the political machine.
Always cheer on the men who go in for improvement. Don't kick at any good improvement because it is not at your own door for fear of your taxes being raised 50 cents.

Rev. I. N. Pieratt, of Hazel Green, began a series of meetings at Rogers' Chapel Thursday of last week.—Cow Creek cor. Clay City Chronicle.

He must have reference to our inimitable Jim Tom, who was in Powell county, sowing the good seeds of christianity.

November Ladies' Home Journal.

"The First Thanksgiving Dinner," "Lillian Bell's First Days in London," and "When Dr. Whitman Added Three Stars to our Flag," are among the leading features of the November Ladies' Home Journal. The first tells of the most historically important dinner in America, at which Indian chiefs were guests, and at which oysters were first eaten by white men. Miss Bell finds much in London to inspire her pen to its smartest activity, and the description of her sight-seeing tours, her impressions and experiences fairly sparkle with wit. Dr. Whitman's service to the United States in saving Oregon, Washington and Idaho from the British are acknowledged in an article which follows the first women across the continent, and the first whites over the Rocky mountains. Magician Kellar writes on "How I Do My Tricks," showing how simple is their solution when it is known.

The second article on "Inside of a Hundred Homes" is more attractive and rich in suggestions on furnishing and fitting up a home than was the excellent inaugural one of the series. It presents 15 views. Edward W. Bok advises young married people against living in a hotel or boarding house, points out the beauties of the small courtesies of life, and expresses hearty approval of the renewed interest in sewing—woman's truest accomplishment. Alice Wellington Rollins introduces a new and charming character in fiction in the first of her Philippa sketches—"The Mistakes of Philippa"—and Clara E. Laughlin contributes "The Revelation of Christopher," a story of strong human interest.

Pianists will be delighted with the musical feature, "Poet's Dream Waltzes," by Reginald de Koven, author of "Robin Hood," etc., and people who are home seeking, with the Journal's special architect's plans for a $2,200 house on a small square lot. Mrs. Rorer tells how to cook eggs and to handle the family wash, and other articles give hints for church societies and parties. Suggestions for Christmas presents that can be made by the giver are timely, as are articles upon dress, needlework, and the various departments covering nearly every phase of home life and of woman's work. The November Journal is interesting, instructive and practical. By The Curtis Publishing Co., Philadelphia. One dollar per year, ten cents a copy.

Kentucky Improvements.

The report of the chief of engineers of the army to Secretary Alger makes the following estimates for the improvement of Kentucky rivers:

An estimate of $1,086,000 is submitted as the amount necessary to finish the improvement, repairing and rebuilding of the five old locks and dams in the Kentucky river, removing snags, logs and other obstructions, and extending six feet of slack water navigation up the stream to Three Forks, a distance of about 261 miles from the mouth of the river in the Ohio at Carrollton. Of this amount $201,500 can be profitably expended during the next fiscal year.

For the improvement of the Tug fork of the Big Sandy, $1,500.

For the improvement of the Levisa fork of the Big Sandy, $11,500.

An appropriation of $2,000 is asked for the Big Sandy.

The country bordering Levisa and Tug forks abounds in bituminous, cannel and coking coal of good quality, but it remains undeveloped for lack of transportation facilities. All the appropriations made since 1880 for the main river have stipulated that the funds should be expended in constructing the lock and dam near Louisa, so that nothing has been done toward the removal of natural obstructions in the main river below the lock and Catlettsburg for about 17 years. This portion of the river has become more or less obstructed in that time, and it is estimated that these obstructions may be cleared out at a cost of $2,000.

Now that the Ohio elections are over, President McKinley may be able to give some attention to issuing the annual thanksgiving proclamation.

Bryan and Jackson.

The parallel between Jackson and Bryan is remarkable. The same powers that are now fighting Bryan fought Jackson. Jackson was defeated once, but the people stood by him through the fiercest fight in the history of politics and they elected him.

Parton, in his life of Jackson, says: "In these Jacksonian contests, therefore, we find nearly all the talent, nearly all the learning, nearly all the ancient wealth, nearly all the business activity, nearly all the book nourished intelligence, nearly all the silver forked civilization of the country, united in opposition to General Jackson, who represented the country's untutored instincts."

Since Jackson's day the trusts, monopolies, and combines have sprung up and they are all fight Bryan. A large amount of talent and learning is arrayed against him, though not by any means all of it; hoarded wealth is against him, business activity is generally against him, the bulk of book nourished intelligence is against, and the larger part of the silver-forked and silk-stocking brigade oppose him. Bryan is denounced and slandered as Jackson was by a subsidized press and by hired politicians, and the people of today love Bryan as the people of Jackson's day loved him. We hope to see the parallel completed by the election of Bryan in 1900, and we firmly believe that we will see it.—Louisville Dispatch.

Engineer vs. Lawyer.

A lawyer at Campbellsville last week received a much needed lesson, which it is to be hoped will be remembered with profit, not only by him but by other members of his profession. The trial of some petty case against the L. N. railroad was in progress, and Engineer Meals, of the C. & O. branch, gave some testimony which did not please the opposing counsel. Consequently when the lawyer addressed the jury, he made Meals the target for considerable abuse, saying that he belonged to the railroad company; that the uniform he wore showed that he belonged to the railroad body and soul and more to the same effect. In the midst of this tirade Meals sprang forward, and with flashing eyes commanded the lawyer to desist. "My clothes are paid for," said Meals, "which is more than I can vouch for regarding yours." In a few rapid, energetic words, he called down the lawyer, and appealed to the judge. The latter agreed with the witness that the lawyer had gone too far. Some of these fine days, some of these lawyers who would not dare to use such language out of the court room, but who take advantage of their position to badger and insult a witness, will tackle the wrong man, and may not get off even so well as did their Campbellsville brother.—Lebanon Enterprise.

If your tongue be in good condition for doing a little acrobat work try reading the following word curiosity aloud. It may be familiar to some of you, for it is one of the treasures that we dug up out of an old scrap book.

If you stick a stick across a stick,
Or stick a cross across a stick,
Or cross a stick across a stick,
Or stick a cross across a cross,
Or cross a cross across a stick,
Or cross a cross across a cross,
Or stick a cross stick across a stick,
Or stick a crossed stick across a cross-
ed stick,
Or cross a crossed stick across a cross,
Or cross a crossed stick across a stick,
Or cross a crossed stick across a cross-
ed stick,

Would that be an acrostic?

Whose business is it to drive the hogs out of the reservoir, from which many Winchester people get their supply of drinking or cooking water? The water is getting very low in the pool and especial care should be taken at such a time to keep the water as pure as may be. Yet a dozen large hogs have been making their wallow in it for weeks, while cattle and geese may get their share for the asking. Possibly hog wallow water is not more dangerous than well water, but it is not pleasant to think about while drinking it, and unlike the well water, it may be very easily remedied. Who pays for that water, the hogs or the people?—Winchester Democrat.

THE second trial of Luetgert, the big sausage maker, will begin at Chicago on the 18th.

GROVER CLEVELAND is now the father of a 12-pound boy, which event occurred last Thursday.

IN HIS annual message to the Georgia legislature, Gov. Atkinson strongly condemns mob law and suggests a number of remedies.

FIVE true bills charging murder have been returned against Sheriff Martin and his deputies for the Hazelton (Pa.) massacre of coal miners.

A STRANGE phenomenon has come to light near Macon, Ga. In Rose Hill cemetery it rained for four days in one spot from a cloudless sky.

THE yellow fever is still raging in a number of places with great severity, and meetings are held and prayers offered up for frost to kill the germs.

THE Ohio food commissioner will inspect all package coffee sold in that state to see whether it is adulterated. He thinks it is sold too low to be genuine.

IN A breach of promise suit against John Germand, aged 77, a retired capitalist of Danville, Ill., Mrs. Carrie Corbett, a buxom widow of 32, was awarded a verdict of $54,333 33 damages.

A RECKLESS driver caused a stage coach containing 18 passengers and drawn by six galloping horses to overturn while rounding a curve, in Wyoming, and three of the passengers were fatally injured.

THE Democratic chief of police of Chicago dismissed 434 Republican policemen to make room for a like number of Democrats who had been discharged two years ago to make room for these same Republicans.

IN THE race for county offices in Morgan county, all the Democratic nominees were elected except county judge and county clerk, and for these places W. G. Blair and Marion Hutchison, respectively, Republican, were elected.

A ST. LOUIS father says it costs too much money to feed and clothe four marriageable daughters, besides furnishing lights and fuel while the young ladies are entertaining their sweethearts in the parlor, and has ordered them all to get married by December 1, or get out and hustle for themselves.

A MOST dastardly outrage was perpetrated at Paintsville on Wednesday night of last week. Some miscreants broke into the office of the Paintsville Commercial, pried the forms and carried off parts of the press and some of the type. Such acts as this can not be punished too severely. The press is for the dissemination of news, and any person feeling himself aggrieved by its statements has recourse to the law, and the nihilistic destruction of property is uncalled for, to say the least.

HENRY GEORGE, one of the candidates for mayor of Greater New York, died suddenly of apoplexy Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock, at the Union Square hotel. He had attended a number of meetings Saturday night and arrived at the hotel with a number of friends about one o'clock Sunday morning. He complained of feeling very fatigued and soon retired to his room. Shortly after three o'clock his wife awakened, and seeing him sitting in a chair spoke to him, but he answered somewhat incoherently. She became alarmed and called her son from an adjoining room. A doctor was immediately summoned, but Mr. George never regained consciousness and passed peacefully away at the hour named. The remains laid in state until Monday after noon, when they were consigned to their last resting place in Greenwood cemetery.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

THE Democratic party has won every thing in sight in this county, with the exception of Clay Lacy, for school commissioner, who is elected by 26 majority. The editor of this paper elected his own heart's blood when we secured Thrasher Combs. As to the judicial, we have nothing this week to say, except that Tom Morrow, editor of the Jackson Hustler, is a d—d liar in every allegation he makes, and the allegator can see Spence every time he wants. THE HERALD editor is proud of the Democratic victory, and while he fought Mr. Redwine, he never forgot that he was a Democrat and took Dave along with 'em all. When you get a better Democrat than Spence, trot him out.

At Corbin, a sneak thief went through a railroad man's pockets at one of the hotels a few nights since, and although the pocket contained $112, the thief took only $1.50.

The case of Jacob Neace for the murder of Deputy United States Marshal Wm. Byrd was called in the United States court at Louisville last Thursday and was continued to March 9.

Reports from Montgomery and Menefee bring the news that J. H. Williams, Democrat, was elected to the legislature over W. R. Tabor, Republican. Also that Judge Cooper had been re-elected.

While waiting for election returns Tuesday night, some unknown parties fired five or six shots from a revolver through the front door of W. T. Caskey's store. The vandals who are guilty of such deeds should be severely dealt with.

A German doctor has started a theory that most drunkards can be cured by a very simple and pleasant course of treatment—namely, by eating apples at every meal. Apples if eaten in large quantities, possess properties which entirely do away with the craving that all confirmed drunkards have for drink.

On account of the serious illness of a juror, the trial of the case against J. M. McKnight, in the federal court, at Louisville, for the alleged wrecking of the German National Bank, which has been in progress there for a week, was postponed until March 14 next. McKnight's new bond was fixed at $12,000.

An exchange says: How often do we hear people say: "Where in the world do all the flies come from?" It is simple enough. The toper makes the whisky fly; the cyclone makes the house fly; the carpenter makes the saw fly; the boarder makes the butter fly; the blacksmith makes the shoe fly; the jockey makes the horse fly, the butcher makes the cow fly, and the housewife makes the old man fly.

Owing to the condition of my health I will, about November 15, start to Hot Springs, Ark., and I sincerely hope that every man indebted to me will call and pay his account, as I am compelled to have money before I go. Don't delay this matter but come at once.

Very Respectfully,

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

J. T. Pieratt and wife went to St. Helens yesterday, to be at the bedside of their daughter, Mrs. Thomas, who is reported very ill.

Mrs. Lizzie Maxey, of Lexington, is visiting her sisters, Messdames Lou Day and Ellen Pieratt, and other relatives and friends in Hazel Green.

Some of the boys at Campton got into a political quarrel, and while acting the part of peace-maker, Beverly Quillian was dangerously cut in the leg.

For children who take cold easily and are subject to the croup, no remedy is so helpful as Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. It should be in every house ready for an emergency.

Henry Matlock, representing McMillan, Hazen & Co., Knoxville, Tenn., was interviewing our merchants the first of the week, and while here was a guest of the Day House.

Elder H. D. Adams purchased of Uncle Sam Swango about an acre of ground and will at once begin the erection of a neat cottage. The consideration was something like $90.

Mrs. Lou Day returned last Friday from an extended visit to relatives and friends in the bluegrass and other sections of the state. She also visited some in Indiana, and says she had a delightful time.

J. M. Pieratt, of Ezel, was here Monday and says the telephone line between that place and Mt. Sterling will be ready for use by election day. He will extend it to Hazel Green at once.—Morgan County Democrat.

W. Hoffman Wood, local editor of the Mt. Sterling Gazette, and Miss Gay Hebar Whaley, of Paris, were married in the former city, Thursday afternoon. The groom is a son of Hon. A. T. Wood, and the bride is a most accomplished lady.

B. L. Neville, a graduate of Ohio Dental college, is stopping at the Day House, and is prepared to do all kinds of dental work in the most satisfactory manner. He will remain here until Monday next, when he will go to Campton and remain a week or more.

There was a very quiet little wedding at the Jambos last Wednesday night, the principals of which were Doc Wells, of Clark county, and Mrs. Susan Murphy, Rev. Frank Press Wilson doing the official act. Their many friends extend congratulations.

The drought was broken on Sunday afternoon by a light shower, and a drizzling rain fell all night and Monday nearly all day, much to the relief of suffering humanity and stock. This has been the heaviest rain in this section since September 13, when a light shower fell.

Last Sunday night the wife of Barnett Blankenship presented her liege lord with a lovely pair of twins—a boy and a girl. Sad to relate the baby girl lived only a few hours and was buried on Monday afternoon. The mother and remaining child are doing as well as could be expected.

The election for town officers for Hazel Green last Tuesday passed off very quietly. Only a light vote was polled, and following were the successful candidates: Geo. W. Wheeler, police judge; W. T. McNabb, marshal; G. B. Swango, M. E. James, W. O. Mize, Wm. H. Cord and W. T. Oakley, board of trustees.

RELIGIOUS.

G. Nelson Stevenson will preach at Daysboro Sunday morning at 11 and Sunday night at 6:30. Communion services just after the morning sermon.

Topics for sermons Sunday at the Christian church are Practical Duties, at 11 a. m., and Our Gifts at 6:30 p. m. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. To all these services every body is cordially invited and urged to come.

A letter from Dr. Witherspoon to Mrs. F. N. Day states that Rev. J. H. Wallin has been assigned to the charge of the Presbyterian church at this place, and will move here with his family in a short time.

In the notice of the beginning of Rev. J. R. Word's work at the M. E. church, last week, a mistake occurred. It should have read on the first Sunday (November 7), that being the regular day. It is not too late, however, to make the announcement, and all the members as well as the public generally are cordially invited to be present at the opening services, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Academy Notes.

Miss Lou A. Maxey, of Morgan county, enrolled last week.

Albert Webb spent from Saturday till Wednesday at his home in Morgan.

Roland Taulbee and Edgar Jones spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of H. C. Ward, near Toliver.

J. S. Adams and W. H. Roark went home Saturday in order to vote Tuesday and the former to do some work in the interest of the academy.

The debate on Friday night was well attended, and the speeches made by the eight young men were highly complimented. There have never been eight better speeches made in a debate at the academy than were those of Friday evening. The question was: Affirmed, that Money is mightier than the sword. The affirmative speakers were: Albert Webb, J. R. Bays, John W. Proffitt and W. H. Roark. The negative speakers were: Robert Day, Curtis Rose, Edgar Jones and H. C. Ward.

The enrollment for the session is about twenty more than that of any previous session at the same time. This shows an increased interest in our school. The prospects for the winter and spring terms are better than ever before, and the enrollment for the whole session will be the greatest in the history of the academy. After this session the courses of study will be increased and it will take four years of hard work before one can be graduated. The academy has always kept ahead of the demands made upon her, and now she proposes a course equal, if not better, than many colleges throughout the land. The business department has already met with general favor, and many will enroll in it within the year. The music classes are larger than ever before in the fall, with bright promises for the future.

Wonderful are the cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla and yet it is only because as the one true blood purifier, it makes pure, rich, healthy, life-giving blood.

Hood's Pills for the liver and bowels, act easily, yet promptly. 25c.

Frank Kash, who has been with his father, Dr. J. M. Kash, and family, at this place, for the past few days, has left for Colorado.

For Mothers!

These discomforts and dangers of child-birth can be almost entirely avoided. Wine of Cardui relieves expectant mothers. It gives tone to the genital organs, and puts them in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy less painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.

McELEE'S Wine of Cardui

has also brought happiness to thousands of homes barren for years. A few doses often brings joy to loving hearts that long for a darling baby. No woman should neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nine cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. LOUISA HARRIS, of Jefferson, Ga., says: "When I first took Wine of Cardui we had been married three years, but could not have any children. Nine months later I had a fine girl baby."

Calloway county reported twenty weddings last week.

There is a frog at Bardtown believed to be over 100 years old.

Lexington claims to have enough water in the reservoir to stand another year of drouth.

One firm of threshermen in Lincoln county threshed 41,000 bushels of wheat this season.

There were 125 divorce cases on the docket of the recent term of McCracken circuit court.

While out hunting the other day, Tom Clark, aged 22, of Danville, accidentally shot and killed himself.

Two colored men were put on the block and sold under the vagrancy act, at Lebanon, last Monday.

A revival among the convicts in the Frankfort penitentiary has resulted in 250 professed conversions.

Walter Hahn, an inmate of Hopkinsville asylum, was killed by getting his head between the slats of the fence.

Howe Crockett, of Wilmore, had a falling out with his sweetheart the other day and shot himself in the head fatally.

Negroes in Graves county gathered to pray for rain, and a downpour came while they were appealing to the Lord.

Gov. Bradley has offered a reward of $100 for the capture of Beauregard Haywood, who recently escaped Mt. Sterling jail.

Drinking water is hauled for nine miles into Springfield, on account of the severe drouth, and sold for 5 cents a bucket.

George Ford, aged 77, procured license at Hodgenville to wed Miss Ida M. Huston, aged 18. This is his seventh matrimonial venture.

The Richmond Register chronicles the marriage of two brothers, W. J. King and S. P. King, to Misses Bettie and Fannie Conners, sisters.

Horse thieves are operating in the southern end of Madison county, and a number of farmers are complaining of having horses and mules stolen.

A young colored Baptist was called on to pray at a religious meeting, in Robertson county, and fell dead of heart disease at the close of his prayer.

Members of the Goshen Baptist church celebrated its 100th anniversary in Clark county recently. There have been only three ministers for the church since its foundation.

The sarcophagus, which is soon to be placed in the Lexington cemetery to hold the remains of the late Byron McClelland, is to be one of the finest in the south and will cost $10,000.

Mrs. W. Q. Emison, married to her husband in 1854 and living with him until two years ago, secured a divorce and $5,000 alimony. He is a well known liquor dealer in Lexington.

L. J. Miller, of the Mt. Olivet church neighborhood, in Warren county, has a stone washbasin set on a stone pedestal in his front yard, that has occupied its present position since 1856.

While assisting his father in cutting down a tree, James Helm, of Mercer county, was instantly killed by a falling limb. He was about 22 years of age, and leaves a wife and one child.

The 3-year-old daughter of F. V. Ferrall, of Somerset, while playing with matches set her clothes on fire and was badly burned from head to foot before assistance could reach her. She will die.

A large barn belong to Enoch Ralls, near Sharpsburg, was burned last Thursday. Eighteen head of horses that were in a field near by ran into the barn while it was burning and all perished in the flames.

In cleaning out a cistern at Carlisle, the workmen found fifty pocket knives, sixty pairs of scissors and a lot of augers, bits, spoons, bullet moulds, gun locks, watches, etc. It is thought thieves had dumped the stuff into the place.

The court of appeals in a decision cuts a big slice out of the emoluments of county attorneys by holding that they are not entitled to 25 per cent. of forfeitures and that the fees so paid since 1895 may be recovered back by the state.

Two brothers living near Harrodsburg look so much alike that they can't be told apart. One of them joined the Baptist church and when about to be immersed found that he had no clothes suitable, and gave his brother 10 cents to be baptised in his place.

While blasting a basin in his spring, Ben Gillespie, a farmer living near Jenkinsville, in Washington county, was instantly killed. After igniting the fuse he ran about 50 yards and when the blast went off a rock weighing nearly 50 pounds struck him on the head.

As the result of an old grudge, Fulton Heathman attacked his brother-in-law, A. J. Million, with a knife, near Newby, Madison county, when Million shot Heathman in the leg, and struck him several times with a stick. Heathman's wounds are not necessarily fatal.

Suits for $10,000 have been filed in Lincoln circuit court by the attorneys of Roy S. Beazley against H. J. Darst, who he alleges had him arrested for horse stealing about the 13th of October and afterwards spoke of him as a horse thief. He wants $5,000 on each charge.

A Bromley girl dropped a bottle in the Ohio river two months ago, containing the following note: "The finder will please open up a correspondence with the writer as she is lonely. The Bromley boys are too slow.—Edna Hughes." Ernest Lino, of Anderson Ferry, found the bottle, followed the instructions, and the wedding took place November 1st.

The 3-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved the little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros., of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by J. T. Day.

Frankfort men have organized a company with a big capital to mine canal coal in Morgan county. It filed the articles with the secretary of state Monday and is to be called Morgan County Canal Coal Company, with capital stock of $25,000, and Messrs. R. K. McClure, L. P. Tarlton, A. W. Overton and John Meagher, all of Frankfort, as incorporators.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

How To Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people.—Mrs. M. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by J. T. Day.

A local newspaper beats the world as an advertising medium, says an exchange. A hand bill attracts attention by accident. The newspaper carries your message to a waiting audience. The fence and barn door ad. is a corpse that can be looked upon by a few neighbors who have to go near it. The newspaper ad. goes into the home, takes a seat in the family circle, and talks right to the hearts of the many thousand people who pay their money for that kind of entertainment. They love the family paper and read it with confidence. Nothing equals a good, live local paper when it comes to reaching the people. Try it and see for yourself.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will not them good." Sold by J. T. Day.

THIRD • GRAND

GUESSING CONTEST.

$1,000.00 in Cash to Be Given Away to the Person Who Makes the Best Estimate on the Result of the November Election.

Every Subscriber to the Daily or Weekly Dispatch Will Be Entitled to One Guess for Every Dollar Paid Upon His Subscription.

Guesses May Be Made Until 6 P. M., November 2, 1897.

The Louisville Dispatch's First and Second Guessing Contests having aroused so much interest among its readers, a third one is now announced, which will surely be the GREATEST SUCCESS OF ALL. The Dispatch will, as soon as the official count of the November, 1897, election in Kentucky is announced, give to the subscriber who makes the closest guess to the actual plurality of the successful candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, at the election, November 2, 1897.

One Thousand Dollars in Cash. Every subscriber to the Daily or Weekly Dispatch can make one guess for every dollar he pays upon his subscription from this date until November 2, 1897, at 6 p. m., after which time no more guesses will be received.

Guesses may be made upon coupons cut from the Dispatch and mailed to The Dispatch Publishing Company, with one dollar enclosed for each coupon used.

All those outside of Louisville who wish to guess must be mail subscribers. The paper will be delivered free to Louisville, New Albany and Jeffersonville subscribers. Send One Dollar for the Weekly, or Six Dollars for the Daily (except Sunday), or Eight Dollars for the Daily and Sunday, or Two Dollars for the Sunday edition, and remember you get one guess for each dollar sent in.

If you are already a subscriber, your time will be extended for as long a time as your money pays the subscription.

Agents will be allowed the regular commission on all the guesses that they send in, but the papers thus ordered, whether Daily or Weekly or Sunday, must be sent by mail and not put in with the agent's package.

As guesses are received they will be turned over to the treasurer of the company, Mr. W. J. Baird, to be deposited and held until the close of the contest at 6 o'clock on the night of November 2.

They will be sealed up in the presence of three judges on the morning of November 3, and turned over to them to be deposited in the vault of the Union National Bank until the official count is declared by the Secretary of State, when they will be opened in the presence of three judges and compared, and the name of the successful guesser will be announced in the Daily and Weekly Dispatch as early as possible, and check paid to the successful guesser.

If two or more persons should tie upon the successful guess, the money will be equally divided between them.

Send for Sample copies containing Coupons. Address all letters containing guesses and remittances to Wm. J. Baird, Treasurer, DISPATCH PUBLISHING CO.,
